

ArcGIS Pro/Online: Slightly NEW LOGIN procedures for existing users

Existing users of ArcGIS Pro and ArcGIS Online at CSU will see a slightly different log-in page beginning Wednesday, August 18, 2021. You can still use your same username and password but will need to do an extra step as explained below.

(NOTE: All new users will be set up to access ArcGIS Pro/Online using their CSU eID credentials. Existing users should use their existing credentials for now.)

1. When launching ArcGIS Pro from your local computer, you will likely be prompted to log in. Click on the down-arrow for Your ArcGIS organization's URL.

2. Type csurams in the space provided. Click Remember this URL, then Continue.

3. To log into your existing account, use the textboxes to enter your account username and password. (Do not use the eID Login).

4. ArcGIS Pro should launch.
